NEW WORK ON VIEW APRIL 2023

Fulgencio Lazo, La Tierra Madre De La Luz [Mother Earth Of Light], 2022, acrylic on canvas, 39.5 x 63 in

LIVING LINEAGE

APRIL 6 - MAY 20

Also on view in April: Living Lineage presents work by artists whose creative practices center a connection to heritage, legacy and historical research. Utilizing glass, painting, ceramic, paper, and embroidery, these artists preserve ancestral histories and transform them through their own distinct, contemporary lens. Featuring Trenton Quiocho, Gustavo Martinez, Fox Spears, and more (artwork above, left to right).

NATURAL SPLENDOR

APRIL 1 - 29, 2023

ARTIST MEET & GREET: SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 3-5PM

"Natural Splendor," encaustic and shellac on panel, 48 x 72 in.

Natural Splendor is a tale of two worlds: the macro and the micro perspectives of a newly discovered universe. Tormey's latest series of landscapes represents the immensity of an imagined, primordial world, vast, pristine and unknown. While her botanical works take closer look at what's growing in the distance of these uncharted places.

PATRICIA ROVZAR GALLERY

1111 1ST AVENUE, SEATTLE, WA 98101

www.rovzargallery.com | mail@rovzargallery.com | 206-223-0273 | Hours: Tues - Sat, 11am -5pm

*"I invite the audience to become a surveyor, an explorer, the first to discover untouched environments. In addition, the viewer becomes a forager: venturing deeper into the marshes, prairies and deserts of the imagination and returning with botanical specimens to be more closely examined. Through this work I am creating an opportunity to reconnect with our inherent reverence for the natural world and to once again become a witness to the world's natural splendor."
- Alicia Tormey*

"Eminence," encaustic, shellac and ink on panel, 36 x 36 in.

"Enchanted," encaustic and shellac on panel, 36 x 72 in.
