FROM SAND TO STARS

INDIGENOUS AUSTRALIAN ARTISTS

FEBRUARY 1 - 24, 2024

Abie Loy Kemarre, Bush Medicine Leaves 6743, 2006, acrylic on linen, 47 x 47 inches

Born into the central Australian desert community of Utopia, Abie Loy Kemarre focuses on a single bush leaf motif, meticulously layered to create a radiating energy that represents ancestral knowledge inherited from her grandmother. Visit in person or online to view our latest collection of Australian indigenous artwork that shares stories from the far western desert to the central heart of this spectacular continent.

THANK YOU TO THE ARTS COMMUNITY!

Many community members have supported the gallery in person and through kind messages after a fire incident damaged our previous location (313 Occidental Ave S).

Response to the situation has suspended some regular options and delayed reopening at our new location.

We appreciate your patience and hope to welcome you at 85 YESLER WAY very soon! Please stay tuned through our newsletter, website, and official social media profiles.

DANNY PERKINS & RICHARD ROYAL

PARALLEL

FEBRUARY 1 - 28, 2024

Champagne Reception: Saturday, February 3rd, 3-5pm

CONVERSATION WITH PERKINS & ROYAL, 4PM

FACILITATED BY ART ADVISOR, DENA RIGBY

Danny Perkins: "No. 2374," oil with resin on panel, 43 x 73 in.

"Parallel" is curated around the transformative effects of light on color. Perkins & Royal, longtime friends who met in the early days of Pilchuck Glass School, each explore & stretch the inherent qualities of their respective mediums. Perkins exploits the transparency & reflection achieved with the use of resin to increase the impact of his beautiful abstract color field paintings. Over the course of Royal's glass career, he has mastered an ability to manipulate the formal characteristics of glass in order to emphasize the movement of light through shape & color.
